

Actual measurements showed that transmitted signal bandwidth varies between 78 kHz and 82 kHz at the -20 dB point with 79 kHz being approximately the average. The extent of the bandwidth of the transmitted signal is intentional and as expected considering the chip length of 33 microseconds in the phase code. .