

Dielectric communications is a manufacturer of passive communication components. These new frequencies are needed to test antennas designed and developed for 1.6 GHz and 2.4 GHz frequency bands. The antennas will have various radiation patterns from omnidirectional to highly directional, however the peak ERP is not going to exceed 100W.