

Exhibit I

Item #10

The applicant desires the frequencies requested for verify design characteristics of a cellular radio system for export only. Experimental use is requested in order to expedite configuration of the mobile station transceivers in a simulated system environment. The applicant desires to implement an effective and competitive system compatible with European Total Access Communication System (ETACS) standards.