Applicant: Honeywell International Inc. File Number: 0463-EX-CR-2026 Correspondence Reference Number: 103575 Date of Original Email: 07/08/2026 Call Sign: WO2XXO This renewal request is submitted to support continued testing and integration of a search track radar prototype designed for collision avoidance under experimental license WO2XXO. The existing authorization has enabled successful laboratory and field testing, and further opportunities to integrate and evaluate this radar system remain at the locations specified in the current license. All operations to date have been conducted in full compliance with FCC rules, within the authorized frequency bands, approved locations, and specified power limits. No harmful interference has been observed or reported. There have been no changes to locations, power levels, equipment, or test objectives from the existing authorization. Renewal is requested solely to continue integration and testing activities at the approved sites.
