

Note: The FAA pre-coordination document for the previous license for this radar can be found under tracking number NG T170173. A new frequency coordination request with no changes to operational parameters has been submitted to the FAA. Once received, the new FAA pre-coordination document will be uploaded to this experimental license application as an additional attachment.