

Experiment Description for Call Sign

Rockwell Collins, Inc. will conduct the tests in the same manner as previously described. Rockwell Collins is requesting that the current license (Call Sign KE2XAG) be modified in order to develop and test SATCOM radios capable of using the new applications offered by SATCOM service providers, which include Swift broadband and other high speed applications.