

RENEWAL OF EXPERIMENTAL STATION LICENSE

Pursuant to Section 5.71 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 5.71, SprintCom, Inc. ("SprintCom") hereby seeks a renewal of its experimental radio station license, WA2XIC, for a period of 5 years. SprintCom is the licensee of numerous broadband PCS licenses authorized under Part 24 of the Commission's rules. In order to fulfill its obligations to buildout its PCS market areas within the time allotted by the Commission, and to improve service to the public, SprintCom must continually devise, test and implement different technology and network design strategies. The purpose of the instant experimental license is to authorize SprintCom to test and evaluate various base station location and design configurations as it determines the optimal manner in which to develop its markets. Doing so enables SprintCom to determine, among other things, the impact of prospective facilities on incumbent operators and whether potential interference concerns can be addressed through antenna, filter and/or power adjustments. Often, this process may involve utilization of test transmitters and other planning equipment that are not yet type accepted to best accomplish this task. Therefore, in order to facilitate its continuing market development and deployment efforts, SprintCom respectfully requests that the Commission renew its experimental license, under the same terms and conditions as previously authorized, until February 1, 2006.
