

Vodafone Americas Asia Inc. (Applicant) seeks to modify its experimental authority under call sign WC2XNA. The modification consists of simply adding two additional frequency pairs into operation: 936.4/891.4 MHz and 938.4/893.4 MHz. These two additional frequency pairs will operate under the same technical and operational parameters as previously applied for, and under the same terms and conditions of its existing license. Applicant otherwise respectfully references its exhibit submitted with its original application for experimental authority to add station WC2XNA for a full description of the experimental program.
